SMALL ANIMAL ARRYTHMOLOGY

6 SECTIONS

National Veterinary School of Alfort formation-continue.vet-alfort.fr

First French learning program in small animal electrocardiography and arrhythmology in remote or on site organised and rolling at the Veterinary School of Alfort (Paris, France).

This is a unique opportunity to study this fascinating discipline from A to Z!

The course include 3 main expert speakers - Dr Vet. Roberto Santilli (DECVIM Cardiology, Italy), Dr Vet. Sydney Moise (DACVIM, USA) and Dr Vet. Romain Pariaut (DACVIM, France) - focusing on nearly all aspects of clinical veterinary ECG over 6 sections ant 7 days of instruction. Forty hours of lectures will be provided on electrophysiology, anatomy, tachyarrhythmia, bradyarrhythmia, conduction disturbances, pacing, but also emergency, internal medicine and exotic animals facettes. Twenty hours of lab demo and ECG interpretation. The review is focused on individual and group learning through collegial interactions and group discussion.

The course will be accessible to all levels of knowledge and experience from novice to trained clinician. One can choose to select the preferred section/s or follow all the program with an interesting discount.
